GENERAL INFORMATION ON THE ABG-LAC

As part of its mission to promote good governance and combat corruption, the High Authority for Good Governance (HABG) of Côte d'Ivoire has established the Academy for Good Governance and Anti-Corruption Leadership, abbreviated as ABG-LAC, whose launch ceremony took place on April 24, 2025, at the Félix Houphouët-Boigny Foundation in Yamoussoukro, under the high patronage of His Excellency the President of the Republic and with the effective participation of His Excellency the Vice-President of the Republic of Côte d'Ivoire.

The academy, which has a sub-regional vocation and aims to be a reference hub in Africa, seeks to strengthen the fight against corruption through training and the development of skills among leaders engaged in promoting good governance, integrity, and the fight against corruption.

The ABG-LAC seeks to contribute to government action and the implementation of national development strategies for inclusive sustainable development, notably through the implementation of training and capacity-building projects in good governance and the fight against corruption. It provides training targeting professionals from the public and private sectors, the media, and civil society.

To this end, the academy has already organized four training sessions benefiting three hundred and fifty (350) managers and professionals from the private and public sectors of Côte d'Ivoire and other West African countries, since April 2025.

To fulfill its mission, the ABG-LAC has established a set of partnerships with: the International Anti-Corruption Academy (IACA), the African Centre for Advanced Studies in Management (CESAG), the Félix Houphouët Boigny National Polytechnic Institute (INPHB), the African Capacity Building Foundation (ACBF), and the Professional Training Development Fund (FDFP).

Together, let's make integrity our weapon against corruption.

OBJECTIVE AND TRAINING PROGRAMME PLAN

The training is intended for public and private enterprises and will cover global corruption trends, international compliance standards, cross-cultural compliance practices, and ethical leadership with speakUp culture.

Participants will acquire practical tools and strategies to strengthen integrity, promote transparency, and implement effective compliance programs within their organizations.

Training designed for public and private sector companies across ECOWAS

The expected training outcomes for the private sector of ECOWAS countries are as follows:

Enable participants to understand the international and regional landscape of the fight against corruption and to form their own perspectives on institutional frameworks.

Equip participants with practical knowledge to implement international compliance standards within their organizations.

Strengthen the capacity of participants to create culturally sensitive, effective compliance programs.

Empower leaders and employees to foster an open, accountable, and integrity-driven work environment
